The house at 11807 Sheppards Crossing Road in Whaleyville is a 1-1/2-story frame dwelling built in the second quarter of the 20th century. The modest house with Colonial Revival-style detailing is typical of residential architecture of this period and lacks the architectural distinction necessary to qualify it for individual listing in the National Register of Historic Places. Further research is necessary to determine whether this resource is located in a National Register-eligible historic district.
